

Tasks:Pharmacogenetics/Clinical Pharmacology (Therapeutic Consultation-Pharmacovigilance)
Clinical Implementation Programme in Hospital and Primary Care (MedeA)

Clinical Trials and Advanced Therapy (UICEC-SCReN / CERTERA)

Ethics Committee Support (CEIm)

Additional: Molecular Biology Laboratory; Levels Laboratory (MS).

Teaching-research environment: INUBE Instituto de Investigación Biosanitaria de Extremadura.
University of Extremadura.

Job Description: As a Clinical Pharmacology Specialist Physician at the University Hospital Badajoz, responsibilities will include this area: 1) evaluation of pharmacological treatments for patients (Therapeutic Pharmacogenetics Consultation), collaboration with other health professionals (pharmacists, nurses, molecular biologists, statisticians, etc) to optimize pharmacological therapies and research in the area of clinical pharmacology. 2) UICEC EECC Unit and 3) support to CEIm, This is a full-time position that will be carried out on a face-to-face basis in Badajoz.

Requirements:

Specialized training in clinical pharmacology and experience in the evaluation of pharmacological treatments. Pharmacogenetics

Ability to work with multidisciplinary teams (pharmacists, molecular biologists, statisticians) .

Skills in clinical research and analysis of medical data related to pharmacology and pharmacogenetics.

Date: 3 January 2026

Category: FEA Specialist Physician Clinical Pharmacology

Information: adrian.llerena@salud-juntaex.es